ATTORNEYS & COUNSELORS

Maria Montemayor

Investigator

Maria Montemayor is an investigator in Brewer, Attorneys & Counselors' Dallas office.

Prior to joining the firm, Ms. Montemayor spent 19 years working as a Language Analyst in the Dallas office of the FBI. She began her career with the FBI, investigating criminal cases, and later worked on foreign counterintelligence matters.

Ms. Montemayor participated in every aspect of the cases to which she was assigned, including working closely with the United States Attorney's Office to help plan discovery, as well as preparing witnesses for testimony. Fluent in Spanish, Ms. Montemayor managed linguist teams brought into the area from all across the country to work special cases, and she is credited with developing a training program for the FBI to accommodate the influx of linguists hired after the events of September 11, 2001.

Ms. Montemayor is a certified FBI trainer and recruiter. She has extensive experience testifying as an expert witness. Ms. Montemayor attended the University of Dallas, where she majored in economics.

Ms. Montemayor actively volunteers her free time to her church and to the Boy Scouts acting as Troop 404's Charter Organization Representative.
